

Pro-Red Crowd Surges Into City Hall In Berlin Today

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Berlin, Aug. 26 (AP)—Backed by a howling crowd, pro-Communists forced their way into Berlin's city hall today and took over the assembly chamber for a propaganda barrage against the anti-Communist city government.

While 10,000 or more persons shouted and surged outside, some 500 pushed through police lines into the building and took seats in the third floor assembly hall. They remained there long enough to hear tirades against the city government and then left to join the huge crowd outside.

The city hall is in the Russian sector of Berlin. The Socialist party announced it is planning a counter-demonstration outside the burned-out German Reichstag building, which, though it is in the British sector, is only a stone's throw from the Soviet sector border.

Wild Demonstration
During the wild demonstration, Communist leaders shouted demands for "an end to this bankrupt city government." They called for formation of an administration in Berlin "which will work hand in hand with the great Soviet Union and countries of eastern Europe."

Berlin's city parliament (council), predominately anti-Communist, has been scheduled to vote today on a resolution to send a Berlin delegation to western Germany's constitutional assembly at Bonn September 1. They called off the session when it became known that the Socialist Unity party (SED), sponsored by the Russians and dominated by the Communists, planned the demonstration. Two SED members of the nine-man senior parliamentary committee voted against postponement.

While the Communists met inside, the crowd outside chanted the Red anthem, the "Internationale." In the hall, Karl Litke, SED member of the Full directions for the securing of first day covers bearing the Lincoln-Gettysburg three-cent commemorative stamp, to be issued at the post office here on November 19, were received today by Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler from Joseph J. Lawler, third assistant postmaster general, Washington.

TELLS HOW TO GET 1ST DAY STAMP COVERS

Postmaster Oyler also announced that more than 350 "covers" have already been received at the local post office, to have the Gettysburg stamp affixed and the "First Day of Issue" cancellation placed on them November 19. One of the cachets was a special Gettysburg design in orange and black.

The instructions received from Washington are as follows:

Instructions Listed

1. To receive first day covers collectors are required to submit legibly addressed envelopes with remittance to cover value of postage stamps to be affixed. Envelopes should measure approximately 3 x 6 inches. Very small or large and irregularly shaped envelopes are not conducive to the receipt of good cancellations.

2. Sufficient space must be allowed for the stamps and postmarks. When a block of stamps is requested the address should be written low and well to the left to allow space for the stamps.

3. Each cover should bear a pencil endorsement in the upper right corner to show the number of stamps to be attached thereto.

4. To insure clear postmark impressions and to prevent mutilation in canceling machines a thin card or a folded sheet of blank paper should be placed in each cover and the flap either turned in or sealed.

5. Envelopes previously used and bearing canceled stamps and postmarks are not acceptable as first day covers.

No Air Mails
Special air mail envelopes, with red, white and blue borders, are not valid for mailing unless allowance for postage equal to air mail rate is provided.

7. Covers of a "freak" nature, directly or indirectly in violation of the postal regulations, will not be accepted. Requests should be restricted to the affixing of singles or blocks of stamps of the new issue to covers. Request should not be made for stamps of other varieties.

8. The outside envelope or covering wrapper should be endorsed "First Day Covers" to permit ready identification at the first day office.

9. Orders for loose stamps of the new issue must not be included with requests for covers. Unused stamps should be purchased at the collector's

MORE THAN 400 ELECTORS HAVE BEEN ENROLLED

More than 400 countians have registered to vote so far during the current registration period.

According to reports presented Wednesday to the Adams county commissioners, 217 Republicans and 157 Democrats had registered up to the beginning of the week.

A team of registrars who began their work last week, going from election district to election district in order that potential voters might register, secured 35 Republican voters and 50 Democratic voters in Coneytown township on August 20; 13 Republican and 15 Democratic voters at Abbottstown, August 23 and 22 Republican and 25 Democratic voters at York Springs on Tuesday. No details of the registration at Bendersville Wednesday or at New Oxford today were immediately available. Friday the registrars will be at Fairfield and Saturday at McSherrystown.

"Open House" At Jail

Meantime a large number of voters came to the court house to register, with 147 Republicans, 67 Democrats, six no-party voters and one prohibitionist registering at the court house. So far, clerks said no progressive party registrations have been received. Those wishing to sign up to vote can do so any day at the court house, except Sunday, until the close of the registration books in anticipation of the election. Or the potential voters can wait until the traveling registrars reach their district.

The commissioners also decided to hold an "open house" immediately after the completion of the new jail north of town. The "open house," with Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz in charge, will be held prior to the return of any prisoners to the new institution. The jail will probably be completed in September, the contractor told the commissioners. Failure of ordered prison doors to arrive is holding up the work at present.

NEW HEAT MARK BEING REACHED

A new heat record for the year is expected to be set here this year with a reading of 95 degrees registered at 1:30 p.m. The previous high for the summer was a 96 on June 29.

Wednesday's maximum reading here was 94 degrees, the hottest day here since July 5 when the same temperature was reached. Last night's low here was 70 degrees.

More Of Same Expected

(By The Associated Press)
Pennsylvanians had a rather chance today to relish that old conversational favorite — the weather. And this being late August the weather was a bit on the warm side. The weatherman gave promise of a repeat today of yesterday's highs with little change expected tomorrow.

Philadelphia's top temperature yesterday was a wiling 93, just two degrees below the all time recorded high for that city, reached in 1936. In the western portion of the state, the thermometer soared to the summer's highest point — a sizzling 96, three degrees above the 1948 mark set on Independence Day.

Harrisburg tied the Philadelphia mark with 93 also, the same temperature registered at Lewistown.

By way of contrast a "cool" 82 was noted at Phillipsburg in Centre county and at Mount Pocono in Monroe county. Pittsburgh's weather bureau said no relief may be expected before the week-end.

The mercury was seven degrees under the all-time record for Pittsburgh — 103 degrees recorded in 1881 and 1918.

"Play-Day" Events End This Evening

The first annual "play-day" marking the end of the regular playground season was underway today at the high school playground.

This evening events will include a band concert by the Blue and Gray at 8 o'clock. A movie and presentation of awards will take place about the same time. A flower show will be held at 7 o'clock.

Lawyers Seek To Omit Testimony

Stipulations which permit omission of certain testimony from printed books in the murder case of Ray H. Simmons were filed with the county clerk of courts today.

Attorneys explained that in cases where an appeal is taken to the Supreme Court, as in the Simmons case, in which Simmons was found guilty of murder by an Adams county jury, the testimony in the case must be bound in book form and presented to the Supreme Court. The stipulations filed today provide for leaving out of the books such testimony as the questioning of jurors prior to their acceptance or rejection, and replacing such testimony with summaries.

The Supreme Court will consider the appeal at Philadelphia during the week of November 8, with the case expected to come up on November 8.

Littlestown Council Irons Out Troubles With Officers

Grievances of special policemen were aired at the regular meeting of the Littlestown borough council Tuesday night, including the allegation that the men who were subject to call on Sundays when Chief of Police Leon Gage was out of town received no compensation.

Officers Elmer G. Wherley, William A. Wherley, Edward F. Hawk and E. Paul Bigalow also charged that on some occasions special policemen were called on Fridays for guarding factory payrolls and received no pay. Special Officer Paul E. Hiltbrink was not present.

After considerable discussion, Council President E. A. Rebert told the special policemen that when they were called to guard payrolls, the matter of compensation should be adjusted between the chief of police and the men called.

Pay Rates Decided

Council voted that men who serve on Sundays should be compensated for a minimum of eight hours, the hours to be served as required. Officers are to be in uniform. It was also decided that when the men are called for duty during the week, compensation will be at rates previously granted, at the same pay as their regular employment. If, at the end of the year the chief of police has had more days off than granted for vacation time, an adjustment will be made in his salary, it was decided.

Following a discussion of equipment, it was decided that if a belt and holster obtainable from the Littlestown salvage store would fit the gun of Officer Bigalow and proved satisfactory, it should be purchased by the borough. It was also voted to purchase refusers similar to the chief's uniform for all five special officers.

Borough Secretary Roger J. Keefer was directed to notify the F. O. Crouse garage to discontinue running crank case oil into the street or into a sanitary sewer, after complaints had been heard relative to

PLAN BUS TRIP TO WASHINGTON

The Gettysburg Recreation Association today invited local families and individuals to take part in a bus trip Sunday to Washington, D. C.

Family groups are particularly invited to take part in the sightseeing tour, the recreation association added. The actual cost of the trip, based on 30 seats in the air-conditioned bus, is $3.50 per person, but family groups in which the children sit on the parents' laps travel for the cost of the parents' trip alone.

The group of 30 (plus children who will be riding on parents' laps) will leave at 6 o'clock Sunday morning for a full day's trip. The bus will stop at the National Cathedral at Washington where Protestants will attend services and Catholics will be taken to mass at a nearby Catholic church during the same time.

So far no details of just where the bus will tour at Washington can be given, the recreation association pointed out. Those taking part in the tour will express their preferences of what they want to see in Washington and the bus will go there as far as possible.

Those planning to take the trip must phone 749-W and leave their name and address before Friday evening. The bus seats will be allocated on the first-come-first-served plan.

MAN CONVICTED; JURY SUGGESTS HOME, NOT JAIL

The fact that Pennsylvania has no place other than prisons for such persons as Alf Thomas, Gettysburg R. D., was termed Wednesday afternoon by the Adams county court as "one of the shames of this great commonwealth which we call our own."

The court made the comment to the last jury of the August term of court after it had returned a verdict finding Thomas guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The jury, of which L. U. Collins, Gettysburg R. D., was foreman, added to its verdict: "We the jury further recommend that the said defendant be placed in a home, instead of serving time in prison."

Approves Recommendation

"You members of the jury have made an entirely proper recommendation," Judge W. C. Sheely said. "Unfortunately the commonwealth of Pennsylvania does not provide any institution suitable for a case of his type. It is one of the shames on this great commonwealth which we call our own. Last fall we directed that he be sent to the Harrisburg state hospital." The court read the findings at Harrisburg, then added, "The county home is inadequate for a case of this type, and there is no authority on the part of the court to send anyone to the county home. The county home is set up to take care of those who are poor or who are ill and no one has authority to confine anyone there."

"The case poses a peculiar problem for the court. Last fall the defendant was in the Harrisburg hospital and the Dauphin county jail for six months."

"That did not seem to be the answer so the court tried probation. As part of that probation it was directed that he must stay away from girls and stay out of town unless on business. Perhaps we erred in making that provision."

Defendant Needs Care

"The court has to meet the problem somehow and we

HOLD GIRL AND COMPANION IN FATHER'S DEATH

Kimball, Neb., Aug. 26 (AP)—A 24-year-old cafe operator and a 13-year-old Ohio girl were in custody without charge today while authorities checked their story about the accidental shooting of the girl's father in the wilds of Canada. County Attorney Kenneth C. Fritzler quoted them as relating the father, John A. McComas, 52, of Dayton, Ohio, was accidentally shot at a point about 100 miles north of Dawson Creek along the Alcan highway. McComas, his daughter, Louise, and Gustav A. Wiegner, 24, all of Dayton, left August 4 for a trip to Alaska where McComas, Veterans Administration employee, planned to put his daughter in a Seventh Day Adventist school. Wiegner and the child are the two being held. Fritzler said Wiegner, who leased a cafe at nearby Bushnell, Neb., when he arrived there August 15, had been identifying the girl as Louise Wiegner, his half sister, and had given Hathboro, Pa., as an address. Shot While Hunting Under questioning, however, the two said Louise was McComas daughter and related how McComas was shot accidentally while Wiegner and McComas were squirrel hunting. "We became scared and pulled out," Wiegner told the county attorney. Instead of continuing on to Alaska, they returned to the United States and finally stopped at Bushnell. Wiegner said that after the shooting, he found McComas' purse containing $1,300 in the car. Canadian authorities have been asked to search for McComas' body.

Smallest Turkey Crop In 10 Years

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Turkey supplies will be scarcer and prices higher during the coming holiday season, the Agriculture Department forecast today. This year's turkey crop is the smallest in ten years. It was estimated at 31,710,000 birds, ten per cent fewer than last year. Production has dropped each year since the 1945 record crop of 44,221,000 birds. The department said this decline reflected unfavorable producers prices in relation to feed and other production costs.

Seek Financier In Death Of Partner

Greenwich, Conn., Aug. 26 (AP)—Police Chief John Gleason announced today that Mercer county, N. J., Prosecutor-Mario H. Volpe has asked him to arrest Henry Morgan Brooks, New York financier, for the slaying of Joseph R. Watkins, 53, his business partner. Watkins was found shot to death last night outside the Princeton Inn at Princeton, N. J. Gleason said Volpe told him to hold Brooks on a charge of murder. Brooks, about 61 years old, could not be found on his estate here today, Gleason said. He lives here with his wife and one daughter. The police chief said he understood Brooks and Watkins were partners in the Standard Foundation, an investment corporation in New York city and were connected with several interlocking enterprises. Watkins, a member of the Watkins Pharmaceutical Co. family was shot with a .32-caliber pistol at a distance of not more than eight feet, Volpe said.

White And Red Oak Differ Slightly

Many home builders automatically specify oak flooring for their new dwellings simply because they know it by reputation. For decades it has been the accepted standard of high quality flooring. Some home planners may not realize that this type of flooring may be obtained in either white or red oak. The two are virtually equal in quality and performance, but differ slightly in appearance. White oak has a brownish tinge, while red oak is characterized by a pinkish cast.

IMPEACHMENT OF MAYOR ASKED

Philadelphia, Aug. 26 (AP)—Democratic leader Richardson Dilworth demanded today that Mayor Bernard Samuel be impeached.

Lillworth opposed Samuel in the Philadelphia majority race last November and was defeated decisively at the polls. Since then, Dilworth has campaigned for a fusion ticket of Democrats and liberal Republicans to unseat the old guard in the Quaker City.

His impeachment demand was contained in a series of street corner addresses last night. He asked that proceedings be initiated by Republican City Chairman William F. Meade before January 1.

If no action is taken by the first of the year, Dilworth asserted, he and his group of independent Democrats will take the necessary steps to seek removal of the mayor.

But, at the same time, Dilworth declared the city cannot expect a cleanup under Meade's leadership.

The Democratic leader told the street corner crowds Mayor Samuel is to blame for not obtaining what Dilworth said were the city's main needs—home rule, city-county consolidation and a revised city charter. Republican leaders made no reply.

Waste Carloads Of Food Daily

Cleveland, Aug. 26 (AP)—Three carloads of fresh vegetables daily are being thrown away here—because Cleveland markets have become flooded with farm garden products.

Despite high retail prices, housewives have failed to purchase the fresh vegetables offered at wholesale prices reports Lou B. Foote, president of the Cleveland Growers' market.

Foote said his group's markets received about 10 carloads of produce daily from 122 farm members, but usually had at least three carloads left over at the end of each day to be dumped as waste.

Many northern Ohio farmers also have become discouraged at the current situation, in which they cart their bumper crops to the city, find no buyers and are forced to dump their food, Foote reported.

New York, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Coast Guard today was investigating the reported "disappearance" of a Louisiana woman from a ship at sea—although friends said they had been notified she died on the ship. The Coast Guard said it had been informed that Mrs. Mary Sheriff, wife of a retired industrialist, had disappeared from the ship on its voyage here from Liberia, Africa.

OPPOSERS—Republican Sen. Edward V. Robertson (top) and Democratic Gov. Lester C. Hunt (bottom) are the nominees of their parties for U. S. Senator from Wyoming.

News Briefs

New York, Aug. 26 (AP)—Possibility that pilots of a United Airlines DC-6 may have been affected by a carbon dioxide leak before the plane crashed June 17, killing 43 aboard, was raised yesterday by a Civil Aeronautics board official.

Sidney Berman, aircraft structural specialist for the CAB, said at an opening hearing of a CAB investigation into the Mt. Carmel, Pa., crash that such a leak from fire extinguishers "would have caused serious deficiencies" in the pilot's reactions.

Philadelphia, Aug. 26 (AP)—Youngsters who saved their pennies, nickels and dimes have given 7-year old Johnny Guille a $1,500 boost toward his medical career.

Things didn't look very bright for Johnny when he lost both legs beneath the wheels of a freight train. In fact, he didn't think he'd ever walk again.

His playmates decided to do something about it. They sacrificed their candy and ice cream and put their money into cardboard containers bearing the inscription "For Johnny Guille." They circulated the containers throughout the neighborhood.

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Patrick Edwin Lewis today faced a technical charge of being absent without leave from the army—while waiting for an honorable discharge. Young Lewis was picked up yesterday by Lancaster police while hitch-hiking from Fort Dix, N. J., to his home in Pittsburgh. He said he had enough of army life but would be willing to try it again when he becomes 18—March 17, 1951.

Annapolis, Md., Aug. 26 (AP)—Four persons including a former army ferry pilot perished in the fiery collision of two small planes four miles from the state capital yesterday. One craft, a Cub trainer, apparently burst into flame shortly after it hit the ground, Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators said. It fell in a woods on the Donald Trumpp farm, four miles from Annapolis.

senior committee, demanded a voice for his party in ruling the city. The SED was defeated soundly in the October, 1946 elections, in which the Socialists emerged as the strongest party.

No Casualties Little did not say how he proposed to set up a new city administration. The SED already is on record against new elections this fall.

No casualties were reported. By midafternoon, a large part of the crowd had dispersed. A 10-man SED delegation met with acting Mayor Ferdinand Friedensburg.

Friedensburg told a news conference later: "We will stay here and do our duty."

He said today's session of the assembly was called off because he could get no assurance from Soviet sector German police that they would protect the city government from "physical pressure," such as the June 23 rioting, when several legislators were manhandled by pro-Soviet demonstrators.

To an SED demand that the city government accept the Soviet offer of food and jobs for western Berliners, Friedensburg replied this was up to individual Berliners to decide as they saw fit.

"Down With Capitalists"

"It is our opinion the majority of Berliners want to remain independent," he said. "If the SED does not agree to this principle of majority rule, let them go before the voters in October and have their decide."

The SED has been agitating to postpone the scheduled October elections. Police reserves were called up to handle the crowd, estimated to total more than 10,000 persons.

They forced their way through a police line, led by men who shouted: "Down with the capitalists! Down with the splitters!"

After bursting into the building, which is located in the Soviet sector of the city, they rushed upstairs to the city assembly chambers. The city parliament had been scheduled to meet this afternoon, but called off the session when the threats of Communist demonstrations became known.

'Buzzy' Boettiger Is Polio Victim

Los Angeles, Aug. 26 (AP)—The late President Roosevelt's grandson, Curtis (Buzzy) Boettiger, is in a hospital suffering from poliomyelitis.

The 16-year-old son of Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall Boettiger by her first husband, Curtis Dall, was stricken last night and taken to the county hospital's communicable disease ward in West Hollywood. He was to be transferred today with 100 other polio patients to the naval hospital at Corona.

The lad's physician said his condition is "not serious but definitely a mild case of polio."

Buzzy's grandfather was stricken with polio in the 1920's and, although he recovered, was crippled and walked with a cane. In his latter years Mr. Roosevelt frequently used an invalid's chair.

Malformed Babe's Parents Reunited

Chicago, Aug. 26 (AP)—The parents of Pamela Lamphere, the malformed baby who faces an operation for a rare bladder condition, were reunited last night after being separated for more than a month.

The couple, Fred, 23, and Irene, 21, separated after an argument over the operation of their 22-month-old daughter, Mrs. Lamphere had expressed fear the baby would not recover. Later, however, she agreed to the operation, which has been recommended by a group of court-appointed physicians. Superior Judge Walter R. O'Malley has ordered that Pamela, who was born with her bladder outside her body, be operated on within 60 days.

WEST CHESTER OUTFIT TRIPS ALL STARS 9-7

A homerun by Stump with a man on base in the top half of the final inning featured the four-run rally by the West Chester State Teachers' college intramural softball champions as the visitors tripped the Community League All-Stars on the high school field Wednesday evening 9-7.

The West Chester outfit pushed over three tallies in the sixth and added four in the seventh inning to win the verdict.

For five innings it looked as though the All Stars would win with ease as they built up a 6-2 lead back of the two-hit pitching by George Fair. But one of the hits off Fair reached the outfield.

Three singles and two outfield out off Bartholomew produced three runs for the collegians in the sixth. Singles by Sheppard and Steiner, homerun by Stump, an error and a pair of singles gave the visitors four tallies in the seventh.

The locals tried vainly to overcome the advantage in the last of the final inning. Everhart singled, his third hit, and Frazer doubled for a run. Roth was hit by a pitched ball. Gorman popped out but Johnson singled to load the bases. Bartholomew skied to left and Frazer was nipped at the plate when he attempted to score after the catch.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—The Williamsport Loyals were assured today of a semi-finals berth in the National Little League tournament, thanks to the no-hit pitching of a 12-year-old hurler, recently recruited from the mlbster ranks.

Paul Shirley, 1948 marble champion of Greater Williamsport, pitched the Loyals to an 8-3 victory over the West Shore nine, of Harrisburg, in the opening game of the tournament last night.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—Despite the one-hit pitching of Stanley Morocco, the Amsterdam, N. Y., team was eliminated from the National Amateur Baseball tournament yesterday by Zanesville, O. Amsterdam, winner of the national title in 1945, lost a second round match to Zanesville, 2-1.

Pittsburgh was eliminated by Johnstown, Pa., 3-0, although Pittsburgh hurler Art Rosser permitted only four hits. Philadelphia also was ousted in losing to New York 12-7. A team is forced out of competition by dropping two decisions.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 26 (AP)—Helen Sigel, medalist and defending champion from Philadelphia Country Club, was the sole defender of eastern Pennsylvania honors today in the state women's golf championship.

The other three semi-finalists were all from western Pennsylvania—Mrs. Lee Mason, 1946 West Penn titlist and Edgewood Country Club champion, who meets Miss Sigel; Mrs. Thomas Nolan, former West Penn champion from New Castle, and Pat Harrison, present West Penn titlist from Oakmont.

The name "Empire State" applied to New York dates back to 1784 when George Washington, after a tour of the state's harbors, waterways and fertile acres, called New York the Seat of Empire.

strong enough to lick the Czechs in the inter-zone final. Adrian Quist, a fine doubles player, scarcely is up to playing two singles and a doubles on successive days.

Not one of the four players who will defend for the U. S. against the Australians in the challenge round September 4-6 is in the same class with Jack Kramer, who helped overwhelm the Aussies twice before turning pro last winter.

Ted Schroeder was an exceptionally fine player at his peak, but he is devoting himself to business these days and is rusty. Frankie Parker, who doubtless will share the singles duties with Schroeder, isn't what he used to be, as he proved in losing to such an average player as Lenart Bergelin of Sweden in this summer's Wimbledon championships.

Fortunately, the Australians are no better off. There is a makeshift team, too, so there is better than an even chance that the U. S. will keep the cup. But it will not be really high class tennis by past standards, or even by present professional standards.

The American four-man team, which includes Billy Talbert and Gardnar Mulloy as a possible doubles combination, probably is the best the selectors could have chosen. For all his victory at Wimbledon, Bob Falkenberg is too erratic and uncertain to be counted upon in Davis cup play, where there is the added strain of competing for one's country.

Because of internal bickering, the Aussies almost certainly will not bring their strongest team to Forest Hills. John Bromwich, snubbed by his country's selectors, is on his way home by boat from England. Virtually without exception, players will tell you he still is the greatest man at doubles in the world.

He and Frank Sedgman, a 20-year-old Australian, won this year's Wimbledon doubles, playing together for the first time. With a little more practice, they might have become unbeatable. Bromwich was willing to join his country's cup squad over here if he had been asked, but the cable never came.

So, the Aussies must depend upon Colin Long and Geoff Brown for their Davis cup doubles, and it is only a fair combination. It wasn't

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)

The Sunbury Reds, eyeing a first division spot in the Interstate league, defeated the York White Roses 11-1 last night to gain a full game on the fourth place Allentown Cardinals.

Allentown lost to the third place Wilmington Blue Rocks 8-3. The victory did not permit the Rocks to gain on the pace setting Trenton Giants who turned back the Lancaster Red Roses 6-5 for their 10th consecutive setback.

The Harrisburg Senators defeated the Hagerstown Owls 3-2 in the remaining game last night.

The Sunbury win was the Red's fifth straight and came via a seven-hit pitching performance by big Jim Davis. Centerfielder Bill Vanheut hit his 12th homer of the campaign with two teammates aboard in the 7th inning.

The Harrisburg-Hagerstown game was a pitching duel between the Owls' Barney Schultz and the Senators' Walt Doherty, the latter getting the best of the argument as he allowed only six scattered hits and fanned the same number.

Today's schedule: Trenton at Lancaster, Wilmington at Allentown, Harrisburg at Hagerstown, and York at Sunbury.

RESCUE PAIR FROM "DUCK"

New York, Aug. 26 (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Carlin, who started around the world in a converted army amphibious truck, have been picked up by a tanker after drifting in the Atlantic for 10 days.

The couple now is bound for Halifax, Nova Scotia, on the tanker New Jersey instead of for the Azores, their first planned stop.

The tanker radioed the Coast Guard last night that it had picked up the seafarers 270 miles from New York. There was no mention of what was done with their craft.

The last previous word of the Carlins was on August 11, shortly after they sailed from here. At that time a Navy destroyer sighted their craft about 150 miles at sea.

Carlin is an Australian mining engineer who was a major in the Australian army during the war.

Lehigh To Start Workouts Monday

Lehigh university's football squad will be inaugurated Monday, August 30, in Taylor stadium when 56 candidates report to Coach Bill Leckonby starting his third season here.

The Engineers will remain at their campus training site for one week only. On September 7, they will leave for Echo Lake in the Pocono Mountain region for two additional weeks of pre-season training for the 65th season. Practice drills will be held twice daily until the squad returns to the campus for classes on September 23. The nine-game season will open two days later against Franklin and Marshall college at Lancaster.

Leckonby will have 20 veteran lettermen back among the 56 students he has invited back for early drills. He will be counting heavily, however, on the talents of a group of sophomores who performed on Lehigh's freshman squad last year, the best yearling aggregation on South Mountain in the past 10 years.

The Gettysburg college eleven meets Lehigh at Bethlehem on October 16.

Yesterdays Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting — Don Mueller, Giants — Hit a pinch hit home run with two on in the ninth inning to spark an eight-run rally which defeated the Chicago Cubs, 9-4.

Pitching — Warren Spahn, Braves — Spaced seven hits in shutting out the St. Louis Cardinals 2-0 to put the Braves ahead of runner-up Brooklyn by four games.

His wife is the former Elinore Arone, 29, of Boston. They met in India where she was a Red Cross nurse, and were married after he came to the United States.

When they started, the Carlins figured they could ride and sail around the world in about six months.

DEMOCRATS SEE LABOR BACKING

Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—Democrats jubilantly forecast today top-heavy labor backing for the Truman-Barkley ticket in November. But Republicans disputed its effect.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) predicted to a reporter that the CIO board meeting here next Monday will join AFL leaders in backing the President's bid for a full term in the White House.

But Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) contended that even if this occurs, it won't keep the country from electing Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the GOP nominee.

The 51-member CIO board will have before it the question of endorsing Mr. Truman's candidacy. There is not much doubt in any politician's mind that it will do so, but not by a unanimous vote. Some CIO leaders are backing Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party.

The AFL leadership acted at a meeting in Chicago yesterday to back Mr. Truman. While the labor organization decided to hold to its traditional role of not endorsing candidates, President William Green said a separate committee will be formed to work for the Truman-Barkley ticket.

A day ahead of the CIO meeting, the once anti-Truman Americans for Democratic Action will hold an expanded national board session in Chicago—also to discuss the matter of political endorsements.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Many receive Picnic Prizes: More than 150 employees and members of their families attended the annual picnic of the Sure Foot Heel and Rubber company, held Saturday at Red Bridge park, and later transferred to Hershey park, because of inclement weather.

Static Balks Reception of Television Here: A shower of static while station WGY, Schenectady, New York, was broadcasting an image by television, prevented clear reception on the home-made televisions of Alex Karas, North Stratton street, Sunday evening. But the little group in the radio shop of the radio expert marveled at the possibilities and capabilities of the apparatus.

According to Mr. Karas, television is in the same stage as radio was ten or more years ago. He expressed belief that within five or ten years television would be so refined that athletic contests may be broadcast and picked up on televisions in homes. The cost of television would be no more expensive than an ordinary receiving set, he said.

First Byrd Ship Sails Saturday: New York, Aug. 24 (AP)—Commander Richard E. Byrd's expedition to the Antarctic gets definitely under way Saturday with the sailing of the barque City of New York, first of three ships which will carry his planes and equipment to the hopping off place for the pole.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory G. Steinhour, South Washington street.

Grayson Peters Resigns Sunbury School Position: J. Grayson Peters, Gettysburg, principal of the Sunbury high school since the death of Walter D. Reynolds late last year, resigned his position, to accept a position as representative of the McMillan publishing company.

James Mitchell Weds York Girl: James M. Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Mitchell, center square, and Miss Erma L. Slenker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Slenker, York, were married Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. E. O. Keen, pastor of the Reformed church, York, officiated.

Peach Glen Couple Weds in Hagerstown: Miss Iva E. Cline, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Cline, of Peach Glen, and Samuel W. Macbeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macbeth, also of Peach Glen, were married last Saturday at Hagerstown by the Rev. F. Berry Plummer, pastor of St. Paul's United Brethren church. Today's Talk

WE LIVE ON LOANS

No one owns anything permanently. Even though we buy something and boast that it is our own, we deceive ourselves. Everything that we have is but ours on loan. Unless a possession wears out, is discarded, or is given away, our ownership is but for the brief space of our living days. Thereafter someone else takes and carries on with the possession.

Yes, we live on loans. Someone else once owned, and undoubtedly loved, the little Lodge in which I now read, relax, and write, but it is not mine wholly. It is mine only on loan, for which I have paid a sum for temporary residence. Some day it will pass on to someone else. In my library are scores of books, once read, handled, and loved by others. In time they will pass to another lover of them, of like taste.

This beautiful earth, with all that it contains, and even this body, which houses our hopes, our ambitions, our loves and our dreams, are ours only on loan. Ownerships pass, we being but tenants to those things which give to us urge, beauty, and personal happiness. Even the serenity that we may enjoy once belonged to someone else, or was divided and given free rein in the world.

There is a great oak beside the garage that has been loaned to me during the occupancy of my summer island home in Nova Scotia. It is of great age — perhaps two hundred years. It stood and lived long before anyone but perhaps the Indians enjoyed its shelter or early beauty. Some of its great branches now are in a struggle for further life, but there it stands majestically, proud and independent. It's a loan to anyone who can pause a moment and speculate upon its strength and history.

The Sun, the Moon, the Stars, and all evidences of beauty or inspiration that come within our vision are but loans. No one can pronounce permanent ownership upon any of these. They belong to all. They are loans from the Creator — and no one is expected to pay interest for their enjoyment. Those things that give the best nourishment to our mental and spiritual selves are free gifts that we are urged to interest others in. Why should we grieve for any loss with so much in the world to fill us with wonder?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Hopeful Impulses."

And willingness all need to share,

The quitter, thinking effort vain,
Selects the place where he'll remain;

A few fish dangling on a string,
More happiness that moment knows

Envoys Gather to Sign Treaty: Paris, Aug. 25 (AP)—Plenipotentiaries representing fifteen nations were gathered here today to enter a written undertaking on behalf of their governments that as among themselves they will renounce war as an instrument of national policy. When this formality is completed the pact will be open for the adherence of forty-seven other nations, including Russia.

The signing will bring together the greatest diplomatic gathering at Paris since the consummation of the peace treaty in 1919. All the Paris newspapers bring out the analogy between the arrival of "two great American citizens, Wilson and Kellogg, bent on the mission of establishing peace on earth."

ACQUIT YOUTH IN BLACKMAIL ATTEMPT CASE

Franklin, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—A jury today acquitted 19-year-old Charles Aites of Oil City of a charge of attempting to extort $1,000 from a dentist and his wife.

The sealed verdict, reached last night, was announced today in the Venango county courtroom of Judge Lee A. McCracken.

The complainants were Dr. and Mrs. Walter A. Kann of Oil City.

Got Demand For $1,000
Among the defense witnesses were

Aites' uncle, Policeman Theodore Aites of Oil City, who was on police clerk duty when the arrest occurred, and Charles "Buck" Aites, the boy's father and former Oil City policeman.

The Kanns told of receiving a note demanding that $1,000 be left in an envelope near an ice skating rink. Aites was seized near the scene as the result of a trap set by Police Chief Ira L. Joseph, who directed the arrest from an airplane.

Aites declared he had been target-shooting at the site.

"Slaughter" Threatened

John W. Tyler, Department of Justice expert, testified two of the youth's fingerprints were found on the extortion note. Aites said he had handled the note when it was shown to him at police headquarters.

Sidney T. Holland, an FBI documentary examiner, testified that the lettering on the note was identical with a sample of Aites' handwriting.

Mrs. Kann told the jury that an anonymous telephone threat warned her whole family would be "slaughtered" if she told police about receiving threats.

GUARD NEARING END OF TRAINING

Indiantown Gap, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—Heavy artillery of the Pennsylvania National Guard roared farewell salvos on the firing range here today as target practice neared the closing phase.

The firing, underway since Tuesday with five artillery battalions taking part, was scheduled to cease at noon. More than 65 tons of ammunition, comprising 2,500 rounds, were expended during this feature phase of summer training.

Meanwhile all of the gunners in the five participating battalions looked forward to an afternoon off before plunging again tomorrow into the final round of summer training. The encampment ends Saturday.

Gov. James H. Duff, together with other high officials, visited the ranges yesterday and watched the big guns in action. The party also toured the small arms ranges where firing was in progress with machine guns, Browning automatic rifles and rocket launchers.

The Governor planned today to journey to Camp Pendleton, Va. where other units of the PNG are in training. Some 3,000 troops from 6 units of the 51st AAA Brigade have been practicing ground-to-air gunnery near Virginia Beach.

MRS. KASENKINA GIVES HER STORY TO REPORTERS

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

New York, Aug. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina says she jumped from a third-floor window of the Soviet consulate to escape Soviet persecution which had "destroyed" her life.

From her hospital bed, the 52-year-old Russian teacher told newsmen yesterday that she had made up her mind long before she came to the United States that she was going to quit her homeland for good.

A few hours after the interview—in which Mrs. Kasenkina spoke directly to newsmen for the first time since her jump on August 12—Soviet vice Consul Zot I. Chepurnykh sailed aboard a freighter for Russia.

Lomakin Leaves Saturday

"I am going home," said Chepurnykh, "and there is no country in the world like home."

His superior, Consul General Jacob M. Lomakin, stripped of his credentials yesterday by President Truman, has booked passage to leave Saturday. The consulate itself has been ordered closed by Moscow because of the U. S. action against Lomakin.

He had given a sharply differing version of the Kasenkina affair than that which came from the lips of the injured teacher.

She said Lomakin and Soviet Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin had "told me what to say" during an earlier interview at the consulate.

Tells of Arrest

At that time, Lomakin said he had "rescued" her from an anti-Communist White Russian camp near New York city to which, he said, the teacher had been "kidnapped."

Actually, Mrs. Kasenkina said yesterday, "they arrested me," and "they did not permit me to leave the consulate."

"I jumped out the window to escape," she said. "I didn't want to kill myself. I wanted to escape."

At a time when Mrs. Kasenkina was in critical condition at the hospital from multiple fractures and other injuries, Lomakin told newsmen she was trying to commit suicide when she jumped. He said she had been driven into a nervous breakdown and "despair" by harassment by White Russians and American officials.

Husband Disappeared

"I wanted to escape," she said through an interpreter, "because in 1937 they took away my husband and I have no idea where he has gone to. He disappeared."

She said her son, a university student, was placed in a storm troopers division without training and was killed in Leningrad in 1942.

She said her desire to remain in America prompted her to leap from the consulate window, because "I knew that since they did not permit me to leave the consulate, I would not be able to escape in Russia either."

MOST OF NATION IS SWELTERING IN HEAT WAVE

Chicago, Aug. 26 (AP) — Most of the nation sweltered again today in the late August heat wave. There appeared little hope of relief from the hot blasts until the week-end.

The heat belt extended from the Dakotas to the New England states, as the oppressive heat moved into the eastern seaboard yesterday. The nation's weather map showed readings of 90 and above in all parts of the country except the mountain and Pacific coast states. New high marks for the date were set in many cities. Thousands of workers in Detroit auto plants left their jobs because of the oppressive heat.

There appeared no immediate danger to crops in the Midwest which has felt the full effects of the blistering heat since last Sunday.

Hartford Had 105

There was some hope that cool air masses from the Canadian northwest would move across the border over the week-end and bring a drop in temperatures to some sections. But forecasters said the cool air was "moving very slowly."

The north Atlantic and New England states got some of the high temperatures yesterday. Hartford, Conn., sizzled as the mercury zoomed to 105. In Huntington, W. Va., thermometers registered an even 100, the same hot mark reported at Alpena, Mich.

New York and Boston got a scorching 96 reading while Philadelphia felt no cooler with a mark of 95. Chicago's 95 was the hottest Aug. 25 in the weather bureau's history and the fourth consecutive day of 90 or above.

Few Cool Spots

Detroit's high was 98 and Cincinnati wilted under the same torrid temperature. Cleveland was in the same condition with a high of 97.

There were a few cool spots. San Francisco's 66 was the country's lowest reading and most of the Pacific coast enjoyed temperatures slightly below normal.

In Detroit, more than 20,000 auto workers were made idle directly or indirectly by "heat strikes." After 9,500 workers at the Briggs manufacturing company left their jobs 2,000 employees at Chrysler corporation's Plymouth plant were laid off. An additional 700 workers walked out in Chrysler's Dodge truck and Chrysler division plants and forced the layoff of 8,000 other workers.

A MAN IN THE HOUSE

Chapter 24

Ted had said: "If you're a smart girl, you'll let go of that dream, quick." But how could you let go of a forbidden dream when it possessed you, haunted you, marched to wild, sweet music that drummed in your heart?

Jane asked herself over and over: How did this ever happen to me?

She knew certain things. That her heart thundered and she felt self-conscious, a little embarrassed, a little afraid, when Ted walked into a room where she was sitting with Carl. When they danced now, of an evening, she and Ted, her senses went on fire, and she couldn't help it. When she thought of Ted going away, going away forever, of never seeing him again, she felt lost, empty, as if some loveliness were about to be torn away from her that she could not bear to live without. She could not help that feeling either.

She asked herself again and again: Have I fallen in love with Ted? The answer was always no, no. But she did not know if that were the true answer, or if a sense of guilt would not let her face the truth. I'm infatuated with him, she thought.

That's all it was. Just a crazy infatuation. Would she ever feel about Carl as she once had, know the dear need of him, feel that closeness as if he were truly a part of her?

Not knowing, not sure of anything, she would plunge into forbidden fantasies as to what life would be like if she were to go away with Ted, divorce Carl and marry Ted.

Ted couldn't have made it plainer that he didn't want to marry anyone. But, she didn't believe him. He didn't really mean it, she thought. He had said: "I don't want to be tied—I'm restless, driven. I want to keep moving on, seeing new places, trying new things, having new adventures."

And so do I. It had never before seemed to Jane that her life was narrow, terribly restricted, that she was basically a restless person, that it would be wonderful to live a roving life, forever moving on, taking root nowhere, belonging nowhere.

In these vague, unreal, and quite uncharacteristic wanderings of her fancy (for usually and by nature Jane was a practical soul) this envisioned paradise with her romantic soul-mate became a kind of cross between a Bing Crosby ballad and an Indian Love Lyric. Any relation to reality was purely coincidental.

It was when she was alone, walking down the street while her dreams marched with her, or lying awake at night, staring unseeing into the darkness—it was then that Ted took on all the magic, unbelievably wonderful qualities of a romantic hero, and she gave in to those dreams that lie deep, eager to be awakened, in every woman's heart, and the thought of leaving the life she knew and following this man into a strange, unknown, uncharted life was like a beckoning hand, urging her on to a shining, glorious adventure.

It was at those times that she was afraid. Afraid of herself.

Days drifted into weeks and Christmas approached.

It was difficult to pin down Jane's feelings about Carl during this period. She was so much like a person in a trance.

Carl became obscure. She knew that he was there, of course. Knew that he poured coffee for him each morning at breakfast, that she looked after his laundry as always, that he usually managed to get home for dinner, that he was looking awfully tired.

Being dead tired, Carl was occasionally short with her or neglected to answer her when she asked him a question.

One evening at dinner (they were alone, Ted having been invited over to Pauline Clark's), Jane said: "Look, Carl, I'm your wife, remember? So I wish you'd stop looking at me as if you couldn't quite recall the face, or thought I was someone who'd strayed into the house by accident."

Carl grinned: "Sorry, baby, I've had a hard day and I'm half blind with a headache. You'll have to make allowances for me these days, Jane. After Christmas I expect the work to let up. Then I'll have more time to devote to being a husband."

Jane thought: He makes it sound as if being a husband was a sort of part time job, something to do by fits and starts, when everything else was attended to.

She thought: Maybe by the time he's ready to get around to remembering he's my husband, I won't even be here. That thought seemed so awful, so tragic, that she wanted to cry and the tears actually did well up into her eyes. Carl said: "Why, honey, what's wrong? What are you crying about?"

"Nothing," Jane sobbed. "Everything. Oh, Carl, don't you love me any more?"

Chapter 25

Carl said: "You crazy idiot, you darling. Of course I love you." When they had finished dinner, they went into the living room with their coffee and Carl sat on the divan and held Jane in his arms and made love to her for a little while.

But at nine o'clock he got up. He had to go up to his study, go over some papers. He worked that night until three.

When he did take a few hours off, plan something for them to do together, something invariably seemed to come up to spoil it.

There was the week-end in Washington which Carl had planned. He had made hotel reservations, selected a time when there was a show they both wanted to see. They were to drive up early Saturday morning.

Jane had never lost her little-girl enthusiasm over a trip. Just the thought of going somewhere, staying at a hotel, excited her. She would look forward to it for days ahead, plan what she would take with her, what she would wear to travel in.

She had left her packing until that Friday evening and she wanted Carl to help her with it. He was a perfect genius at folding dresses with layers of tissue paper so that there was never a wrinkle.

They had just got off to a good start when Helen Talbot arrived and Jane, already edgy, went into a minor rage. The girl had been a perfect nuisance of late, she and her thesis. Even Carl seemed to be getting a little fed up with her. She was getting positively bold, the way she kept running to the house, asking for Carl. "Oh, Mrs. Whittier, is Professor Whittier in? I know you think I'm a perfect nuisance, but this paper is so terribly important to me. I do want it to be good. Your husband has been the sweetest thing about helping me. And I've just run up against a snag, something I want to ask him about. It's so essential to have all my facts accurate."

Idiot. Pest. Nuisance. Why didn't Carl tell her off and have it done with?

Jane went down to open the door that evening. When she saw who it was she said, "Oh, it's you, Helen."

It was the same old story. "Oh, Mrs. Whittier—"

Jane said coldly: "We're awfully busy. Helen! We're going away for a few days. We put so much off until a few days. We put so much off until the last minute—"

Helen couldn't take a hint. Jane left her standing in the front hall while she went back upstairs to Carl. "It's that girl Helen," she said shortly. "You'll have to go down. But I warn you, Carl. Get rid of her in a hurry. This is one night when I can't take a long dose of Helen."

Carl went down, and it was two hours before Helen left. Jane, standing at the top of the stairs, heard them talking in the living room. "I want to get a lot of work done on it, over the week-end, Professor. And there's this last part I'm not sure about. If you'd check it over for me—"

Jane fidgeted and squirmed. She went back into the bedroom, lit a cigarette. She felt her blood pressure going up and her hands getting chilly. She could do the packing herself, she supposed. But she'd lost interest in it. She was too annoyed. By the time Carl came back upstairs she was ready to cry with anger, and she'd lost interest in the trip. "I don't want to go," she said. "Packing, getting ready, was half of the fun. And now that's all spoiled. You let that girl spoil it!"

"Now, baby—"

"You needn't 'baby' me. I mean it. I'm furious. You could have got rid of her if you'd tried. All you had to say—"

"I can't be rude to people, Jane. I can't refuse to help someone who asks for my help."

"Well, okay, you can spend tomorrow and Sunday helping that girl for all I care. I don't want to go away. Not now I don't. I tell you, it's all spoiled." And she began to cry.

"Now, honey," Carl said. "I'm not going and that's final." They did go, of course. But the trip had been robbed of its fun before they started and they never managed to get it back again.

It was ten days or so before Christmas that Jane decided they ought to give a party. First she talked it over with Carl, who raised no objections. "Go ahead, if you want to," he said.

"I thought a Christmas Eve party," Jane said. "That would be fun. We could have some of the younger faculty crowd. And some of the kids who can't go home for Christmas. You're sure you don't mind, Carl? You aren't too tired to bother with a party?"

"No," Carl said. "I'm not too tired. I think it's rather a nice idea, Jane."

A day or so later Ted had some news for her.

The night before Pauline Clark's husband had had a stroke. Had Jane heard about it?

No, she hadn't heard.

"She's asked me to move back to their house for the time being."

"Oh," Jane said. She looked at Ted. "Are you going?"

"I have to," he said. "What else can I do?"

He touched Jane's hand, gave her an odd look. "Maybe it's a good thing—for us, honey. It will help make the break by easy stages."

Chapter 26

Christmas Eve came with wind rattling the windows and the weather man predicting the worst snowstorm in years. Grand, Jane thought. That meant a white Christmas.

Evergreen trees were blanketed white with their icy burden; the tresses, window-deep in snow, were turned into picture post card houses. She hung a great wreath on the front door and placed candles in the windows. Ted came over to help her trim the giant tree and they laughed and sang Christmas carols while they worked, and had fun. Several days before they had driven out into the country and brought home holly and greens for decorations. The house smelled of fresh pine and logs burning and spiced cakes baking.

It was going to be a grand party and a lovely Christmas, Jane told herself. For Carl's gifts she had bought a lounging robe and a book of poetry, first edition, which she knew he'd be crazy about. The tension between them seemed to have lessened since Ted had moved over to Pauline's. Things weren't as they had once been, of course. Carl seemed tired, overworked.

Sometimes Jane had to wonder if all his work was really necessary. It could be, couldn't it, that it was a very convenient excuse to shut himself away from her evening after evening, to avoid her as much as possible.

But she had made up her mind to let things ride until after the holidays. She was like a little girl about Christmas. She no longer believed in Santa Claus, exactly, but she still knew the mystery, the beauty, the thrill of looking forward to Christmas. Each year she could recreate for herself the wonder of it. She still believed it was a little different from any other time of the year, touched with some illusive magic. She wasn't going to have this Christmas spoiled.

For a week or so previously, she went out of her way to be especially sweet to Carl. When little things came up to aggravate her, such as the evening they were dated to go to a dinner party and Carl forgot all about it and arranged to attend a faculty meeting, Jane was nice about it. She refused to quarrel, no matter what happened.

Once Carl grinned at her: "You've developed the most heavenly disposition. You wouldn't be trying to prove to Santa Claus what a good girl you are?"

In his quiet way, he seemed to enjoy all the Christmas fixings, although he had no time to help with them. The evening Jane and Ted were working on the tree he came in and stood watching them, smiling, as if over some secret thoughts of his own. "It's a fine tree," he observed finally, and then he went upstairs to his work.

Jane thought bitterly: Wouldn't you think he'd stay downstairs until Ted goes? Wouldn't you think he'd want to take a little part in it? But he seemed to take Ted's presence as a matter of course. And Jane guessed, he considered a Christmas tree too childish a thing for him to bother with.

She had to smile at herself when she thought of all her fine plans to make Carl jealous. The more he saw her with Ted, the more philosophically Carl seemed to accept the situation.

All that had come of her scheming and pretense was that what had started as make believe had become a little too real for comfort.

ARREST WOMAN AS TOKYO ROSE OF WAR DAYS

Tokyo, Aug. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Iva Ikuko Toguri D'Aquino, accused of being one of six dulcet-voiced Japanese disc jockeys known to American service men in the Pacific as Tokyo Rose, was arrested today.

The specific charge against the American-born Japanese wife of a Portuguese was treasonable activities during World War II. She will be tried in San Francisco after she lands there about September 28 from the U. S. Army transport General H. Frank Hodges.

During the war, six English-speaking Japanese women regaled American service men from Alaska to Australia and Hawaii to Kunning

POSSIBLE CUTS IN FARM PRICE SUPPORT LOOM

By OVID A. MARTIN
Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—Talk of possible cuts in farm price supports was heard in government circles today. It seemed from the prospect that the Agriculture department may have to put up around $1,500,000,000 to keep prices on 1948 crops from falling below levels fixed by law.

Any changes would have to be made by Congress, however, and the lawmakers are not due back until January.

Discussion of the price support problem was heard anew at the Agriculture department where officials are mapping out a 1949 farm production program. Its goal is to get farmers to start cutting back from high wartime levels in some crops—particularly wheat, potatoes, oilseeds, and possibly corn.

May Ignore Plan
A proposal that 8 per cent less land be planted to wheat already has been announced. But reports from the field indicate that growers plan to ignore the department's recommendations and plant another big acreage.

The action of Congress in June in extending the wartime price supports for basic crops another year was said to be influencing the farmers' wheat plans. Officials said growers of other crops also are likely to ignore suggestions for smaller output of crops already listed as surplus.

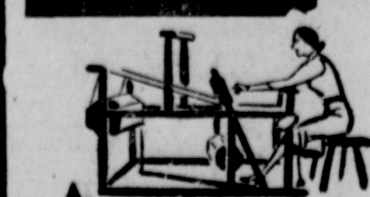

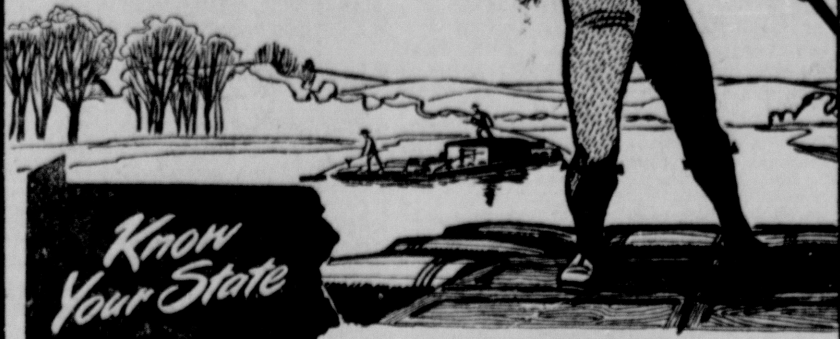

The Truman administration had urged lower price supports for next year's crops.

May Trim Support Levels
No responsible department official is willing to be quoted by name, but many say privately they believe the next Congress will find it advisable to trim the support levels in order to prevent an accumulation of big surpluses.

They already are estimating that oil being poured into a drain which led to the gutters on Lumber and South Queen streets.

Investigate Complaints

A complaint relative to soot emanating from an engine operated at the Keystone Milling company was turned over to the Safety committee for further study and consultation with the owner to determine whether the nuisance can be remedied or eliminated.

Council was informed that application for resurfacing alleys as outlined on the County Aid application had been approved by the State Highway department. The secretary was authorized to rent equipment and purchase materials.

On second reading of ordinances, relating to the relocation, change of grade and opening of West King street and the ordaining of a portion of the street and the repealing of a former ordinance and ordaining of Prince street from the proposed Windsor street to the Bonneauville road, council approved the ordinances.

Permits Issued

Clarence R. Reck, president of the Village Chevrolet, Inc., which is erecting a garage and service station at East King and Walnut streets, was granted permission to remove the curbing on East King street and to replace the gutter and sidewalk with macadam.

At a previous council meeting the VFW home association on West King street had been granted free water service to the home, the same as the American Legion home on East King street. Council deemed it unwise to put an expensive meter at the home for sewer rental only. Therefore, it was decided to charge a minimum of $24 per annum for sewer rental until further notice.

Treasurer Pickering reported the following monies received: From H. G. Blocher, for parking meter violations; parking in restricted zone and in front of private driveway, $20; Pennsylvania railroad for freight loss claim, $43.99; Gettysburg Gas corporation for gas permits, $6; Burgess Mehling for overtime parking and parking on sidewalk, $24; Alpha Fire Co. in payment of fire extinguisher refills, $12.50; Reid C. Epplenman, tax collector for prior year's taxes, $163.47, and for 1948 taxes, $12,539.09.

Water permits were granted to Horace K. Rineman, 138 Lumber street; to Ralph C. Shaffer, W. Myrtle street, and Clayton J. Noble, Jr., 511 South Queen street.

The following building permits were granted: Thomas J. Rider, 74 Crouse Park, to excavate and construct a one-story frame, covered with composition brick, composition roof garage 20x10 feet and paint two-story brick dwelling.

Paul J. Morehead, James avenue, excavate and construct a cement sidewalk and water table at residence according to grade and specifications given.

Birnie Shriner, 156-158 Lumber street, replace spouting at dwelling.

Mrs. Zone Herber, 36 North Queen street, excavate and construct a cement sidewalk from porch to front sidewalk in front of dwelling and between dwellings to front sidewalk.

Mrs. Mary S. Rebert, 226 "M" street to paint and/or repair two story frame dwelling.

Movement For Worldwide Christian Unity Widely Backed In United States

CHURCH LEADER CITES GROWING TREND TO UNION

By RICHARD TOMPKINS
Amsterdam, The Netherlands,
Aug. 26 (AP)—The growing movement for worldwide Christian unity will have the support of a majority of American churches, a U. S. churchman declared today.

There is "rising concern for cooperation and ecumenical (worldwide) fellowship" in American churches today, said the Rev. Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert of New York, in a paper prepared for a visitors' conference in conjunction with the assembly of the World Council of Churches.

"That this concern for unity should exist and be gaining in strength is all the more remarkable in view of our historic emphasis for freedom and diversity," said Cavert, who is general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and a consultant at the World Council of Churches.

Pioneer in Cooperation
He said that although there are church groups in the United States in which the sectarian spirit is marked, the outlook for a world church has begun to capture the imagination and loyalty in most American churches.

"Although the United States has been the scene of the greatest variety of Christian bodies," Dr. Cavert continued, "it has been a pioneer in inter-church cooperation. Perhaps the very fact of multiplicity of denominations has compelled us to give more attention to offsetting the handicaps of a gravely divided state."

Neither the Roman Catholic nor the Russian churches are represented here, nor are the Southern Baptist Convention of the United States and the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran church.

The World Council itself continued secret deliberations on the Christian stand toward such controversial questions as Communism, Pacifism and Palestine.

The assembly was divided into four separate sections for these deliberations. The sections will prepare reports which will be considered at a later plenary session of the full assembly. The assembly session continues through September 4.

Littlestown

A large number of the Byers clan was present on Sunday at Big Pipe Creek park, near Taneytown, from Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia for the 15th annual reunion. The gathering began in the afternoon with each family partaking of their picnic lunch. All the officers of the past year were re-elected. They are:

President, Chester S. Byers, Littlestown; honorary president, Mrs. Ella Null, Taylorsville, Md.; first vice-president, John H. Byers, Hagerstown; second vice-president, Edward B. Byers, New Windsor, Md.; secretary, Maurice C. Wareheim, Littlestown; assistant secretary, Ruth W. Elder, Littlestown; treasurer, G. Frank Byers, Mt. Airy, Md.; historian, John C. Byers, Littlestown, and assistant historian, Walter D. Byers, Duncannon. Following remarks by the president, David E. Smith, Baltimore, chairman of the program committee took charge of the meeting when the following program was presented: Song, invocation, by the Rev. Richard Byers Martin, Harrisburg; scripture reading, Psalm 23 by Mr. Smith; welcome address by Edwin W. Elder III, Littlestown; song; piano duet, by the Misses Leverage and Marie Warehime, York. Then followed an address by the Rev. Mr. Martin who spoke on "Security." There was another piano duet by the Misses Warehime; a short talk by Edward M. Byers and the reading of the minutes by the assistant secretary, Ruth W. Elder. President Chester S. Byers then made the following awards: Prize to the oldest lady present, Mrs. Ella Null, 87, Taylorsville, Md.; prize to the oldest man, Lewis Smith, 82, Westminster, and to the youngest person present, Thomas Byers, three months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Byers, Littlestown. It was decided to hold the reunion next year at the same place on the fourth Sunday in August.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Martin.

Major and Mrs. Edwin W. Elder, Jr., daughter, Jacqueline, and son, Edwin III, spent Wednesday in Baltimore visiting Major Elder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Elder, Sr., and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Theron Cromer, Philadelphia, the former Nadine Sell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holman L. Sell, South Queen street, was admitted as a patient in the Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, Saturday a week.

UNITED STATES SAVES FACE IN USSR FLURRY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

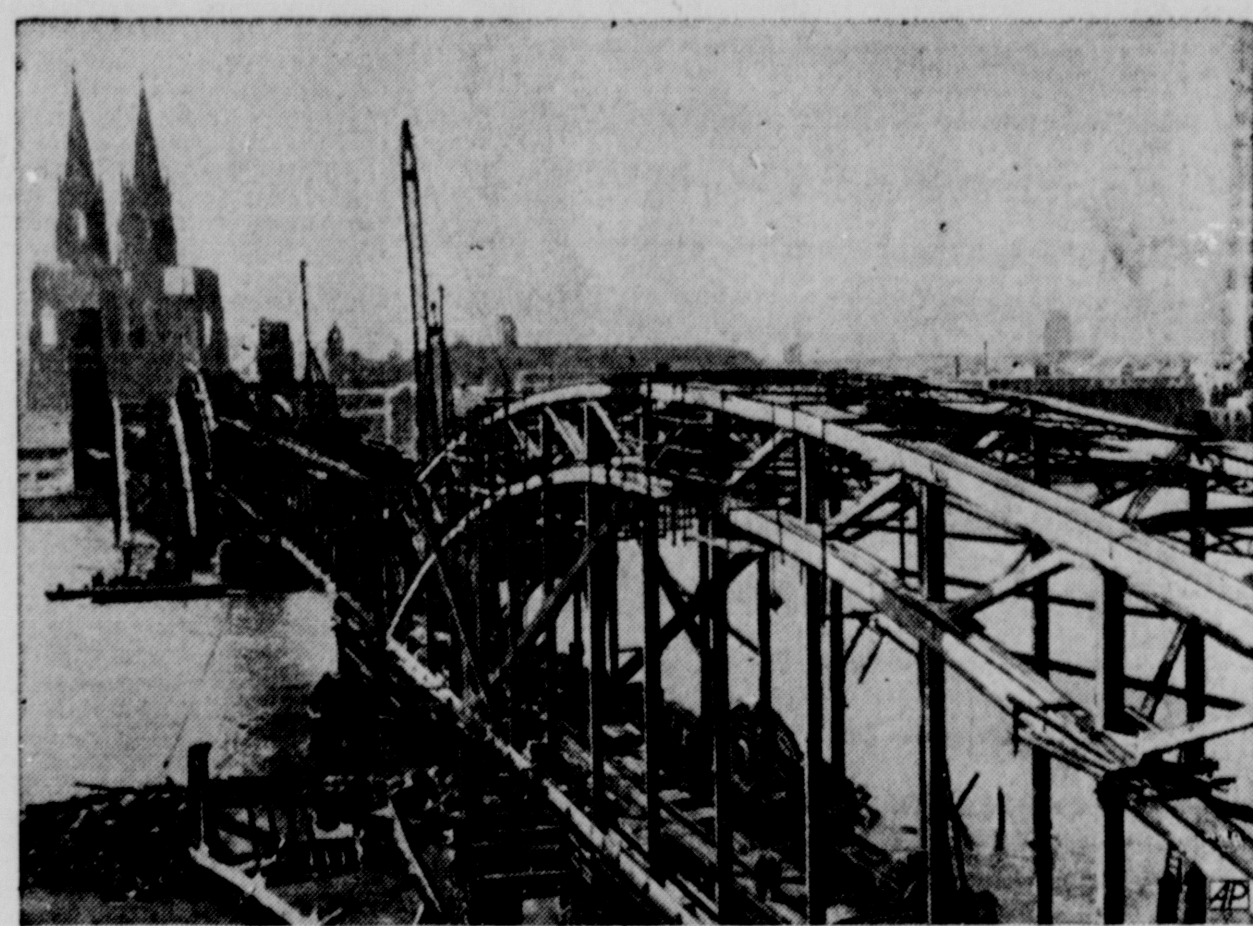

The American-Soviet consulate clash is the sharp, quick shower which helps clear the air, rather than the cloud-burst which does heavy damage.

When Washington several days ago asked Moscow to recall Soviet Consul General Jacob Lomakin, for "highly improper" activities in the case of the three refugee Soviet school-teachers in New York, it was a foregone conclusion that the Muscovites would dramatize the situation to save face. Thus it occasions no surprise to see them close not only their big New York consulate but their San Francisco headquarters as well. It was equally certain they would retaliate by closing America's lone consulate in Russia — that at Vladivostok.

Actually neither country will suffer much materially through the transaction. Consulates deal mainly with trade, and there has been a heavy drop in Russo-American business since U. S. export controls were imposed last March. So far as concerns Uncle Sam's consulate in Vladivostok, it was so hamstrung by the Reds that it didn't amount to much. They even threw brilliant floodlights on the building to make sure that callers at night could be identified.

U. S. Saves Self Respect
The break affects the field of commerce rather than diplomacy. Both countries continue to maintain their embassies so that affairs of state will be transacted as heretofore. As a matter of fact the embassies also can handle business matters, and moreover Moscow still has in New York a branch of its big trading concern — Amtorg.

COLOGNE BRIDGE REBUILT — This is new Cathedral Bridge over Rhine River at Cologne, rebuilt to replace Hohenzollern Bridge which was blown up by retreating Germans in 1945. Parts of old bridge lie in river in background. Cologne Cathedral is at left.

that there will be a suspension of negotiations among the big four looking to a solution of the German issue. In fact an informed diplomatic source in London says Stalin has proposed a Berlin conference of big four financial experts to work out an agreement for control of the German capital's currency — a red-hot issue.

True, authoritative allied sources in Berlin see little hope of success for such a currency conference, unless there is a prior agreement on principles by the governments of the big four. Still, any conference which keeps the peace ball rolling is all to the good.

Maybe things will move more smoothly as the result of the Soviet-American consulate affair. Washington's firm stand is calculated to inspire some degree of Russian respect. Maybe it will — who knows? The United States at least retains its self-respect.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS

SCRANTON PLAN SELLS BONDS TO PEOPLE OF CITY

By BILLYE WHELOCK
Scranton, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—Two years ago this mine scarred city wallowed in a mire of declining business, population and faith in the future.

Today, because its citizens refused to let the ghosts take over, Scranton has boosted its population and owns 11 new industrial plants, each of them either leased or spoken for by new industries.

The buildings were built with bonds, bought by housewives, miners, janitors, bankers, newsmen and the 140,000-odd citizens, big and small.

And the industries the new plants have attracted here have helped to swell the population of Scranton and surrounding Lackawanna county to 300,100, pushing the figure over the 300,000 mark for the first time since prewar days.

Economic Transfusion
Scranton fell into evil days when anthracite, king of Lackawanna Valley, tumbled from his throne. World War II didn't improve conditions. More than 50,000 residents left Lackawanna county before the war ended.

But let Willis W. Jones, general secretary of the Scranton Chamber of Commerce tell the story:

In March, 1946, a small group of businessmen got together to talk about an economic blood transfusion for Scranton. Out of that and subsequent meetings were born "Scranton Plan Inc." and "The Scranton - Lackawanna Industrial Building Co."

The Scranton planners turned out a tune "Buy Scranton Bonds," and took to the street to sell their fellow-citizens an investment in their future.

Selling first mortgage, four per cent bonds in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000 and $10,000, they built a kitty of more than $1,000,000 and went out and bought a $3,500,000 defense plant from the government for less than half the cost.

Everybody Helped

The plant, used by Murray Corporation of America to turn out B-29 wings during the war, is now headquarters for the Scranton Plan and Murray, with a five-year lease, is producing stoves, kitchen cabinets and sinks.

Out of the Scranton-Lackawanna Industrial Building Co. bonds, also four per cent, came the money to build new plants.

All but three of the buildings have been completed and occupied. But the other three under construction either have been spoken for or are getting the once-over from out-of-town industries.

Ask Jones who it is that gets the credit for the new look of Scranton and you get a one-word answer: "Everybody."

More than one-third of the deaths from fire each year occur on farms.

Vice Consul's Body Home From Europe

Philadelphia, Aug. 26 (AP)—The body of Harry M. Donaldson, vice consul at Antwerp who drowned August 7 when he fell from the S. S. American Defender while en route home, arrived in Philadelphia yesterday aboard the American Lawyer. Donaldson, a native of Newtown, Pa., was drowned in the harbor at Rotterdam.

His body, recovered from the Maas river August 11, was consigned to Mary M. Donaldson in Maryland.

VANDALIA MEET GETS UNDERWAY

Vandalia, O., Aug. 26 (AP)—The dress rehearsal for trapshooting's most glamorous show was on today at the 49th Grand American.

The big event, of course, is tomorrow's Grand American Handicap—a 100-target race in which the hot-shots are penalized yardage, giving the poorer shooters a chance to win—which they usually do.

Today's race, tagged the "Preliminary Handicap," is just the same as the "Roaring Grand," 100 targets at handicaps. But there is as much traditional difference as between the Kentucky Derby and a claiming race.

Today's winner gets $1,000, plus what he can pick up in optional wagering pools. A guaranteed purse of $5,000 is offered the high guns each year, but in 1947 a total of $11,434 was paid out—not counting the options.

The Amateur Trapshooting Association bosses slackened the tension a little yesterday, confining the program to the deciding of class championships. All were decided over the 200-target 16-yard distance.

Three More Polio Cases; Phila. Total 74

Philadelphia, Aug. 26 (AP)—Infantile paralysis cases in Philadelphia this year have risen to 74.

The three newest cases were reported yesterday. There have been two polio deaths in the city since Jan. 1.

During a similar 1947 period there were 19 cases and one death.

Penguins lay one or two eggs, or sometimes three during their breeding season.

TO NAME DEPUTY TAX RECEIVERS

Philadelphia, Aug. 26 (AP)—Four businessmen will be named soon to assume control of the Office of Receiver of Taxes W. Frank Marshall, according to the Philadelphia Inquirer. They would serve for an indefinite period.

The newspaper, in a story appearing in today's editions, said the four men would have the rank of deputy tax receivers and would be paid $10,000 each. They were to be chosen by Attorney General T. McKee McNeilly and Judge Raymond MacNeill, the paper continued, and will have full authority, including the right to fire.

The Inquirer said "the plan, worked out by top-level officials representing the city, state and courts in the tax office investigation, reportedly has been acceded to by Marshall."

The newspaper said Mayor Bernard Samuel would appear before the city council with an ordinance establishing the four new posts in the receiver of taxes office as soon as the four businessmen are selected.

Use African Frogs In Pregnancy Tests

Philadelphia, Aug. 26 (AP)—African frogs are arriving at Girard laboratories for use in making human pregnancy tests.

The first shipment was aboard the American Lawyer which docked at the port of Philadelphia yesterday after a 7,000-mile trip from Cape-town.

Norman Altschuler, head of Girard laboratories, said the African anophibia are preferred because of their individual characteristics.

He added that the African frogs—which resemble the American leopard frog in general appearance—live most of their lives entirely under water. He said they could not be bred successfully in this country and that there would be a regular importation of the species.

PRR BUILDING LUXURY TRAINS

Philadelphia, Aug. 26 (AP)—Luxury liner trains for tomorrow is the aim of the biggest building program in the 102-year history of the Pennsylvania Railroad, President Martin W. Clement said today.

The program, a continuation of the company's post-war improvement plans, now totals $216,700,366, Clement announced.

With a part of this outlay the company will provide every PRR through passenger train with supervised children's playrooms, movies, refreshment lounges, temperature controls and other conveniences.

The program also calls for 566 new Diesel electric locomotives, 395 new light weight all-room sleeping cars, overnight coaches, diners and lounges, 273 coaches, parlor, dining and feature cars, 4,400 new freight cars and reconstruction and repair of 8,149 others.

The company already has received 68 new Diesel road locomotives, 156 diesel switchers, 113 new lightweight passenger coaches and about 2,200 new freight cars, the rail chief announced.

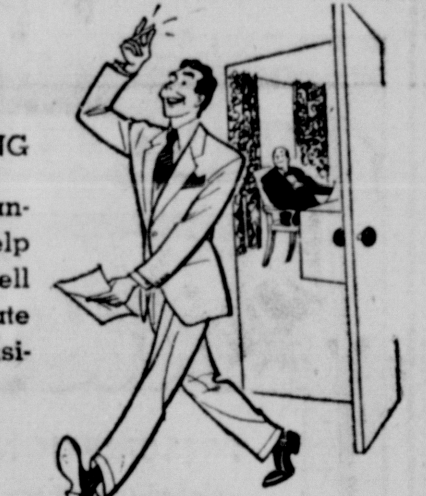

Some of the improvements described by Clement in the PRR's plan to turn trains of the future into luxury liners are: Doors that open at a touch through use of compressed air; fluorescent lighting throughout to eliminate shadows and glare; more leg room in passenger coaches with fewer seats; no more open-section berths through sleeper; with all-room cars, and widespread use of private rooms for daytime travel on short trips.

Clement said all deliveries are expected by spring.

There are more than 17,500 barn fires annually.

Steel Firm To Buy, Move Roller Mill

Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Alan Wood Steel company of Conshohocken, Pa., will purchase a 30-inch hot rolled strip mill, now at Cleveland for installation at the Alan Wood Ivy Rock, Pa., plant.

That was revealed in a registration statement Alan Wood filed with the Securities and Exchange commission yesterday for public offering of $6,300,000 in first mortgage sinking fund bonds due 1963.

The issue is to be underwritten by Drexel and Company. The interest rate and offering price will be set in a later amendment.

The mill will be purchased from Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation at a cost of $1,200,000. Cost of construction will amount to $7,700,000. Extra funds above the bond issue proceeds will come from the company treasury or bank borrowings.

Honesdale, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—The Infants Welfare League Camp, Inc., of New York has purchased Camp Wenonah at Poyntelle in Wayne county. The purchase from David C. Knight and Kathryn W. Knight of Wenonah, N. J., was announced yesterday. It also included a part of Poyntelle lake.

USNR RANKS ARE LISTED

The Bureau of Naval Personnel has published the permanent rank status of all Naval Reserve Officers who satisfactorily performed active duty during World War II, according to information released by Lieutenant Commander W. L. Vaughn, inspector-instructor at the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center, 2995 North Second street, Harrisburg.

The publication listing the officers in their permanent rank, and providing, in some cases, advancement in rank to which officers would be entitled by virtue of time in grade, can be inspected at any Navy establishment, and officers may complete the necessary papers for acceptance of permanent rank at these same offices.

To accept the permanent appointment each officer must have performed satisfactory service on active duty and must present a Certificate of Satisfactory Service (large size) as evidence.

Each officer must also certify that he was physically qualified for release to inactive duty, his orders to inactive duty will show this endorsement; or that he is physically

Officers may appear at any Navy activity to effect their appointment and officers who do not desire to accept the appointment shall submit a statement to that effect to the Chief of Naval Personnel via the Commandant, FOURTH Naval District, Philadelphia, Pa., stating reasons.

Lt. Cmdr. Herbert E. Bryan, formerly of Arendtsville and now publicity officer at the Harrisburg center, will supply Navy Reserve officers in this area information on their permanent rank upon request.

TRAFFIC TOLLS ARE CONNECTED WITH INFLATION

By MAX HALL

Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—The truck swerved against the line of oncoming automobiles. It battered five of them with a series of frightful crashes and overturned on top of a sixth, spilling its load of lumber on the highway. A seventh car screeched into the wreckage.

It happened the other day near Baltimore. Three people were killed; 12 were injured.

If the groans and screams of those people could have been recorded and broadcast over every radio station in the country, it might have illustrated better than words the seriousness of the highway problem.

Traffic and Inflation

This problem is connected with inflation and the housing shortage. Traffic in America, only three years after the war, has become far heavier than ever before in our history.

The number of motor vehicles has risen to around 40,000,000.

According to government figures, these vehicles traveled the astonishing distance of nearly 18,000,000,000 miles on rural roads in the month of June. That does not include travel in cities and towns.

Road Building Costs Up

Careful driving is needed as never before. And so are good roads.

A lot of road-building is going on. But not enough. And one reason is inflation.

State governments, with some help from the Federal government, are probably spending more money on roads this year than ever.

But the money doesn't go as far. To build an adequate highway for heavy use—with four lanes, a strip of grass in the middle, and no cross traffic—costs at least $200,000 a mile.

POET—Robert Frost, four times winner of the Pulitzer prize for poetry, examines potatoes in the garden of his cabin near Bread Loaf Mountain, 12 miles from Middlebury, Vt.

Traffic Increasing

There are other highway headaches for states, counties and cities.

Here is one of them: Every city needs divided expressways that will keep cars moving at a reasonable speed, unhindered by cross traffic and red lights. Often the logical way to build them is to wade through low-cost areas, condemn the houses, buy them, put the tenants out, tear the structures down, get the job done.

But there is not only a highway shortage; there is a housing shortage.

Can you throw these people on the sidewalk when there are no vacant houses for them to move into? Very often, you just can't do it.

And the traffic keeps increasing.

COMMUNISTS HURL CHARGES IN RED SCRAP

London, Aug. 26 (AP)—Communist Yugoslavia has accused Communist Romania of conducting a "monstrous anti-Yugoslav campaign" and of plotting to topple Premier Marshal Tito's regime.

Yugoslav Foreign Minister Stanoe Simic handed the Romanian ambassador in Belgrade a note accusing Romanian officials of urging Yugoslavs to revolt and overthrow Tito, the Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug, reported last night in a broadcast from Belgrade.

The note singled out Mrs. Ana Pauker, foreign minister of Romania, as one who has "openly called for the elimination of the present state leadership in Yugoslavia."

In addition, the note said, the press, radio and officials of Romania have addressed gross insults and "most shameful expressions" to Tito and the majority of the Yugoslav people.

Latest Episode

It was the latest episode in the conflict between Tito and the Russian-dominated Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau). This nine-nation organization split with Tito and his lieutenants in July, charging them with a hateful policy toward Soviet Russia and with deviating from the Marx-Lenin philosophy.

Romania has sided with the Cominform, in which Mrs. Pauker is a leading spirit.

The note said state officials and

HISS - CHAMBERS CASE MARKED BY CONTRADICTIONS

By MAX HALL

Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—All through the long day and into the evening the congressmen questioned Alger Hiss and Whitaker Chambers.

The two men agreed they used to know each other. They disagreed on most other points. They stuck to their stories. They called each other liars.

Rep. Edward Hebert, Democrat from New Orleans, burst out: "Whichever of you is lying is the greatest actor ever seen in this country!"

Chambers, a $25,000-a-year editor for Time magazine, said he was a Communist party functionary in the thirties and Hiss was "the closest friend I ever had in the Communist party."

A Few Agreements

Hiss, the former State Department official, denied it.

Let's see what they agreed on yesterday during the dramatic hearing, and how they contradicted each other.

They both testified, according to their best recollection, that they first met in 1934 or 1935 in Washington; that they once took a trip to New York in the same car; that in 1935 the Chambers family spent a few nights in the Hiss home on P street; and that for several weeks in 1935 the Chambers family occupied an apartment on 28th street which the Hisses had vacated but were still renting.

Disagreed Mostly

On these other points they disagreed:

1. The name Chambers went by—Hiss said he knew Chambers only as "George Crosley." Chambers said he never used that name and Hiss knew him only as "Carl."

2. How they met—Hiss said that according to his best recollection, when he was chief attorney for the Senate committee investigating the "Crosley" case into his office in the Senate office building and represented himself as a free lance writer seeking information.

Chambers said he was introduced to Hiss, "I believe in a restaurant," by Harold Ware and J. Peters, whom Chambers described as leaders of the Communist underground.

Was Hiss A Communist?

3. Whether Hiss was a Communist—Hiss said he has never been one. Chambers said he himself collected Communist party dues from Hiss at least once "and I would think on three occasions," and that Hiss was a "devoted Communist" who "obeyed party discipline in every respect."

4. When they last saw each other—Hiss said "I would think some time in '35." On questioning he said it was "conceivable and possible" that he saw Chambers after that, though he doesn't remember it.

Chambers said it was in 1938, and that all through 1936 and 1937 they met once a week—"once a fortnight, to be on the conservative side"—in the Hiss home.

The Old Ford Roadster

5. The arrangement under which Hiss allowed Chambers to stay in his house and his apartment—Hiss said he took the Chambers family into his house out of "humaneness" and "kindness," and that he subleased the apartment to Chambers orally but never got paid more than $15 or $20 and a rug.

Chambers said there was never any talk of payment or of a sublease. He said Hiss entertained him and his family "because Mr. Hiss and I were Communists and that was the comradely way of doing things." He also said, "Mr. Hiss considered it a privilege to have a superior in the Communist party in his home."

6. The affair of Hiss' old Ford roadster—Hiss said that to the best of his recollection he "threw it in" with the sublease in 1935. He couldn't recall whether Chambers ever returned it, or, if so how the car finally was disposed of.

Who Is Lying?

Chambers said Hiss never turned the roadster over to him, but ultimately gave it to the Communist party for use of "some poor Communist organizer in the west."

7. Why they parted company—Hiss said he "got rid" of Chambers after Chambers repeatedly asked him for favors. Chambers said that when he broke with the Communist party in 1938 he went to the Hiss home, tried unsuccessfully to persuade Hiss to do the same, and finally left Hiss "crying."

8. Who is lying?—Hiss said Chambers is "a self-confessed liar, spy, and traitor." Chambers said, "Mr. Hiss is lying. Eighty per cent at least is fabrication."

AP Photographer Sues Brooklyn Team

Pittsburgh, Aug. 26 (AP)—Suits in trespass were filed last night against the Brooklyn Dodgers and infielder Tom Brown by Associated Press Photographer Danny Jacino who said he was pummeled during a game between the Dodgers and the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday.

The incident came after Umpire Billy Stewart had ordered Jacino away from his post behind third base because the photographer had two cameras.

Jacino said as he neared the Brooklyn dugout a player called him a name and that someone hit him. As he tried to defend himself, Jacino said, he was pulled into the dugout and pummeled. The game was held up for five minutes before police restored order.

Harold Parrott, Dodger traveling secretary, speaking for Brown, charged Jacino with "using filthy language and riding us every time we come to Pittsburgh."

Talk is our business—and never before have we carried such a tremendous volume of it. Both local and long distance telephone traffic is at a new high in spite of continued shortages of skilled workers and necessary materials. We've talked a lot about our expansion program, too, and this talk has not been idle.

During the past few years we have made rapid progress in this program.

Our expansion will continue until we have provided efficient telephone service for every person desiring it.

MEXICO HAVING PESO TROUBLES

Mexico City, Aug. 26 (AP)—Devaluation of the peso has stirred political and personal enemies of President Miguel Aleman and his associates into feverish activity.

Wild rumors of shootings and cabinet resignations have floated around for a month. So far as can be learned, most of the gossip is only gossip but there is uneasiness among many people. They don't fear armed revolution, but they wonder if ripples on the surface indicate a dangerous undertow in political waters.

Neither the President nor his associates have given substance to rumors of violence by denying them. One of these rumors was of an attempt to kill the President. Responsible men laugh at the stories. Aleman supporters put up "don't whisper" posters in an effort to halt rumors.

MILK CONTROL COMMISSION IS FACING COURT

Harrisburg, Aug. 26 (AP)—Pennsylvania's Milk Control Commission faced court action today to compel it to make public its "confidential" producer and dealer price records.

The action, instituted by the city of Pittsburgh, is expected to be the forerunner for an appeal by the city of a new commission order boosting milk prices 1½ cents a quart in the 12-county Pittsburgh marketing area, effective September 1.

The city asked the Dauphin county court to direct the commission to give free access to information concerning the cost of production and distribution of milk, or, as an alternative, have commission officials appear in court with the desired records.

No Date Set

Commission Chairman H. N. Cobb, in answer to a previous request by the city to produce milk data, declared that "on the advice of the Justice Department we will continue to hold such information confidential until the Justice Department tells us otherwise."

No date has been fixed for action in the case.

The 1½-cent price boost was approved by Majority Commissioners John J. Snyder and Charles J. O'Loughlin, with Cobb dissenting. Maintaining his previous stand, Cobb said the boost was not sufficient.

"Free Access" Claimed

The petition requesting the milk records was filed by Pittsburgh City Solicitor Anne X. Alpern and Assistant Albert D. Brandon. It asserted that the city needs the price data in order to adequately set forth the consumers' position in regard to price increases.

The petition further contended that the commission is required to extend "free access" to the records under the 1937 milk control law.

Appearing at a hearing here Tuesday on the western price boost, Brandon told the commission that dealers had failed to prove the need for a greater spread between wholesale and retail prices.

The assistant city solicitor said at that time the price boost would be appealed by the city of Pittsburgh. He emphasized that it would be based on the failure of both dealers and producers to show the actual profit in the milk industry.

Littlestown — Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the J. W. Little and son funeral home, Littlestown, for Mrs. Mary Maude Petry, 66, wife of Howard T. Petry, who died at her home, Walnut street, Littlestown, Monday evening at 10 o'clock, following an illness of a year and a half, and after having been bedfast since January. Her pastor, the Rev. Grantas E. Hoopert, pastor of the Centenary Methodist church was in charge of the service. Interment was in the Pleasant Valley cemetery, Pleasant Valley, Md. The pallbearers were J. Ray Reindollar, Oliver Reaver, Malcolm Hess, C. W. Harner, Clarence Reek and David Shildt.

The first game of the championship playoff for the first and second series in softball between Redeemer's Reformed church, winner of the first series and the Littlestown Bankers, winner of the second series could not be played on Wednesday as had originally been planned. The first game will be played tonight at 6:30 o'clock; the second game Monday night and if a third game is necessary, it will be played on Tuesday evening.

At a special meeting of the Council of St. John's Lutheran church on Tuesday evening, it was decided to purchase a two manual Moller pipe organ. A special organ committee consisting of Miss Kathryn Shriver, chairman, Lloyd L. Stavely and Edgar A. Yealy, representing the congregation and Walter Yingling and Harry O. Harner, representing the church council have been hearing and studying various types of organs, both electrical and pipe organs. This committee recommended the Moller organ to the council as being the best adapted for use in St. John's church. Installation of this organ will begin as soon as possible. A special offering for the pipe organ fund will be received in the church on Sunday morning, September 5, which will also be the Sunday that the pastor, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, returns to the pulpit after a month's vacation.

Littlestown Girl Scout Troop No. 15 will meet at the office of Dr. R. M. Phreaner, on the square on Friday evening at 7:15 o'clock to go skating at Big Pipe Creek park. Transportation will be provided. This party has been postponed from August 18 on account of rain that night.

Commander Kenneth L. Steick was in charge of the semi-monthly meeting of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, V F W, in the post home, West King street on Tuesday evening. Four new applications for membership were received, the applicants being Lamar Gerver, Harry F. Eline, John Warehime and Edward Sheets. After a favorable report by the investigating committee, these applicants were elected to membership. Considerable discussion followed on the formation of a firing squad. It was then decided to hold a meeting in the very near future of those interested and those who have already volunteered. Thomas Meliland will be captain of the squad. The time and place of this meeting will be announced in these columns. The next regular meeting of the post will be Tuesday, September 14.

23 INJURED IN BUS ACCIDENT

Columbus, O., Aug. 26 (AP)—Twenty-three persons were hurt — three seriously — late last night when a west-bound Greyhound bus hit the rear of a large semi-truck and trailer 18 miles east of here.

The state highway patrol reported that the truck, driven by Gerald L. Gobbs of (Lime Kiln Pike) Dresher, Pa., had been parked and had just gotten under way in the right hand lane of U. S. 40 on the edge of the Licking county village of Wagram.

The bus, driven by Harold O. Linscott of Columbus and bound from Pittsburgh to Columbus, carried 32 passengers. Linscott and 10 of the passengers escaped injuries, but Gibbs and 22 passengers were hurt. Eleven of the injured were taken to Grant hospital here, four to St. Francis hospital, and seven to White Cross hospital. Most of them were released after emergency treatment for cuts, bruises and shock.

The seriously injured were Charles Anderko, 47, of Washington, Pa., who suffered a compound leg fracture; Mrs. J. H. Bass, 68, of Fort Smith, Ark., who was reported suffering from shock; and Mrs. Ellen West, 49, of San Marino, Calif., with head and chest injuries.

ALIEN OUSTING IS COMPLICATED BY COURT RULING

By MAX HALL
Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—The long, plodding campaign of the immigration and naturalization service to expel people from the country on grounds of Communism has been thrown into confusion.
And it looks like the confusion may continue for a long time.
Here is the reason:
Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough has ruled that the service's method of holding hearings—presided over by immigration inspectors—is illegal under the administrative procedures act of 1946.

Judge Goldsborough Again
He ordered it not to go any further in deporting Gerhard Eisler, Irving Potash, John Williamson, Ferdinand C. Smith, and Charles A. Doyle unless it changes its methods and starts over.

This is the same Judge Goldsborough who fined John L. Lewis in connection with two coal strikes and later upheld the legality of Lewis' pension plan for miners.

His ruling in the deportation cases came on May 5. It jolted immigration officials so they only now are beginning to recover from their astonishment.

They insist that the administrative procedures act does not apply to immigration hearings.

Proceed Cautiously
For a time they stopped all hearings entirely.

Disagreeing with Judge Goldsborough, they have no intention of changing their whole system unless forced to do it. They have appealed the ruling. But it will take more than a year to get a Supreme Court decision. Meantime, what should they do?

Apparently, they have resolved to proceed cautiously in other cases, following their traditional method—even though, if Goldsborough turns out to be correct, all their work will be overturned.

Against Eisler, and others, the immigration service has charged: (1) that they are Communists; (2) that the Communist party advocates the violent overthrow of the government.

No Clear-Cut Ruling
The immigration law provides for the expulsion of aliens who belong to organizations which believe in violent overthrow.

The immigration service has taken many setbacks in trying to prove its claim that Communist membership is sufficient reason to deport an alien from this country.

The biggest setback was the Harry Bridges case. In 1945 the Supreme Court held that the government had not proved Bridges was a Communist. Therefore it did not feel compelled to rule on whether the Communist party has violence on its mind.

The Supreme Court has never made a clear-cut ruling on that issue.

Are you planning to pick up and picnic this week end? Then I know you're hoping, as I am, for warm, sunny weather. But if it should turn out to be chilly or rainy, don't let that interfere with your plans. Go ahead and have your picnic anyhow... at home. That way your family won't feel let down, and you won't have to rustle up a regular meal at the last minute.

THIRST AID

It's no picnic being thirsty on a picnic, so be sure to take plenty of refreshing soft drinks on your outing! You'll find a big variety of "whistle wetters" at your A&P... each as enjoyable as the other, and all thrifty priced. Make A&P your thirst aid headquarters!

QUICK AND SLICK

If you go in for campfire cookery, you'll get yards of enjoyment from ENCORE Prepared SPAGHETTI. It's mighty good cooked at home on the range, too, so get a few cans at the A&P. Made with a tasty sauce of tomatoes, spices and cheese, all you have to do is heat it. And if you want an extra hearty dish for 8 hearty eaters, combine 2 cans of this swell spaghetti with 2 cans of red beans; mix well in a skillet; add 2 tps. of chili powder, and heat thoroughly. Add green pepper and onion rings if you like 'em. Grand indoors or out!

SWANK FOR SALADS

For the best-dressed cole slaw or vegetable salad that ever went a-pickin', try this tangy dressing made with WHITE HOUSE MILK, the creamy-rich evaporated milk sold at the A&P. Just blend 1/2 tsp. prepared mustard, 1/2 tsp. salt, 2 tps. sugar, a dash of cayenne and 1 cup undiluted WHITE HOUSE EVAPORATED MILK. Add 1 tbsp. vinegar gradually, stirring till thick. Enough for 8 servings of salad.

KING-SIZE SANDWICHES

Where there's a grill, there's a way to enjoy MARVEL HAMBURGER ROLLS in their special role of partners for sizzling hamburgers. But even if your picnic equipment doesn't include a grill, these delicious, freshly baked rolls from the A&P can have their innings on your outings. They're perfect for big he-man sandwiches of all kinds because they hold so much filling.
